Association and Society Management International, Inc., Hired by the National Homeland Security Association for Specialized Services

January 29, 2019 (Falls Church, Va.) – The National Homeland Security Association (NHTA) recently retained Association and Society Management International, Inc. (ASMI) for specialized conference and financial management services. ASMI, an association management company, provides support and guidance to non-profit organizations.

NHTA next meets June 17-20, 2019, in Phoenix, Arizona. The conference is the annual meeting of local homeland security and emergency management professionals from the nation's largest metropolitan areas. It has become one of the best attended and most highly anticipated homeland security conferences of the year as it focuses on all emergency response disciplines at all levels of government.

"The National Homeland Security Association is happy to partner with ASMI to bring their leadership and expertise to help the association continue to provide and grow the best conference for our nation's first responders," stated Jonathan Schultz, president, National Homeland Security Association.

Association and Society Management International, Inc. (ASMI), is accredited by AMC Institute, the global trade association representing the Association Management industry. Among 500-plus Association Management Companies (AMC) worldwide, only 86 have achieved AMC Institute Accreditation, demonstrating the commitment and the ability to deliver the highest level of professional management services to association and not-for-profit clients. These AMCs are the recognized choice of association and not-for-profit organizations.

Since 1964, ASMI has managed associations and built a solid reputation for serving not-for-profit organizations, providing leadership and professional management services through experienced staff, best practices and shared resources. ASMI's staff of more than 30 provides a breadth of experience in not-for-profit management and service and holds credentials in association management, meeting planning, event management, and specialty professional certifications.

"We are honored that NHTA has entrusted ASMI with conference registration services and accounting and financial management services," states ASMI Chairman Harry Buzzerd, CAE. "The addition of this organization to our emergency management client base provides a synergy that allows ASMI to continue to offer clients a breadth of experience and insight on best practices and continuous quality improvement."
